

To the Eighth Grade Students at St. Martha School,

Our parents, Patrick and Janet Smith, were part of St. Martha Parish from the very beginning. Our family moved into the Pennswood section of the parish in 1966, before St. Martha Church and St. Martha School were built. All four of us, Patrick and Janet's children, are proud graduates of both St. Martha School and Archbishop Ryan High School.

Our parents believed in Catholic education so much that public school wasn't even considered. Whatever the cost of Catholic education, it was worth it. Our father had to work hours and hours of overtime. Our mother had to be a full-time homemaker and hold down a job. And they both had to give up things they wanted in order to send us to a Catholic school. But, to them, it was worth it because of the quality of education a Catholic school offers, because of the values a Catholic school teaches, and because of the discipline a Catholic school provides.

On October 6, 1987, our mother died after a ten-year battle with cancer. She was 52 years old. Less than five years later, on June 24, 1992, our father died after suffering a stroke. He was 61. Soon after our father's death, we decided that we had to honor our father and mother for all they had done for us. Eventually, we decided the best way to honor them was to create a scholarship fund in their name.

Determining the criteria for the scholarship was fairly easy. Recipients would have to be graduating St. Martha students who would attend Archbishop Ryan, just like the four of us. Recipients would have to be good students academically, because our parents always insisted that we do our best in all of our school work. Recipients would have to be in a family that would have difficulty affording a Catholic high school education without some form of financial assistance, to recognize the sacrifices our parents made to pay for our education. Recipients would have to be students who truly valued a Catholic education, like our parents did, and who were articulate enough to tell us, in an essay, why. And finally, because one of us was in medical school when our mother died and benefited from scholarships that were set aside for single parent families, we decided to give special consideration to students who had the love and support of only one parent.

Since 1995, the Patrick and Janet Smith Memorial Scholarship Fund has awarded 68 scholarships and grants, totaling over $350,000.00. This year we plan to grant two (2) four-year scholarships of $10,000 each. Also, to ensure that the names of the winners of the scholarship are remembered throughout the years, we donated a plaque to St. Martha School. This plaque is hanging in a prominent place in the school and will list each recipient of the Smith Memorial Scholarship.

We encourage you to apply for the Patrick and Janet Smith Memorial Scholarship.

Sincerely,

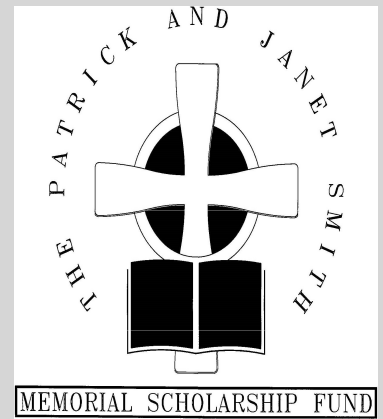

The SMSF Board
